DIDN'T REALIZE HER MOTHER WAS DEAD

Little Tot From Dundee, Scotland, Will Be Taken to Loraine, Ohio, to Her
Father—Her Mother
Died at Sea.

Boston, Nov. 19.—Beatrice Young, a dainty miss of three, not old enough to realize the loss of her mother, who died and was buried at sea, arrived yesterday on the steamship Laurentian in the care of the stewardess, and will be taken to her father at South Loraine, O., by friends who came over on the same steamer and live not far away from her home.

Nov. 12 Mrs. Mary Young died of pneumonia. The funeral service was conducted by the Rev. William C. Conning. The little girl's father is Alexander S. Young, who is employed in the steel works at South Loraine.

On the Laurentian were Mr. and Mrs. Neal Norton, who live at West Park, 28 miles from South Loraine, who will take the girl to her father.

"I want to see my mamma. Why don't dear mamma come an love me?" pleaded the little girl.

When Mrs. Young brought Beatrice aboard the Laurentian at Glasgow, Nov. 6, it was noticed the young mother was ill. Almost immediately she was stricken with pneumonia. In her delirium she told how hard she had worked to secure sufficient money to join her husband, who left Dundee a year ago to try to better his fortune and make a home in this country.

Mrs. Young had been employed as a domestic since her husband went away in order to support Beatrice, she told the doctor and a stewardess when her life was ebbing.

Mrs. Young died while the Laurentian was laboring in a troubled sea. They had told her little Beatrice would have the best of attention and to be given safely into her father's care. In the dying woman's hand was clutched a letter written by her husband.

That afternoon the body was sewed in a piece of canvas and placed on a bier draped with an ensign. The ship was stopped while a burial service was conducted, and men stood with heads uncovered and women wept as the quartermaster consigned the shrouded body to the deep.

Immediately after the impressive service Neal Norton of Cleveland, O., a wealthy contractor, volunteered to take Beatrice to her father.

"I pity her," he said, "and want to do all I can for her."

So Beatrice, sweet as a rosebud in the white cloak made by her mother's weary fingers and the bonnet and new shoes purchased in Dundee, may be given in charge of Mr. Norton and his wife provided the immigration officials do not interpose an objection.

The officials of the steamship line will notify Mr. Young of the death of his wife.

WRECKS CAUSED BY MISUNDERSTANDINGOne Man Instantly Killed and Two Perhaps Fatally Hurt in Wheeling and Lake Erie Railroad.

Steuenville, Ohio, Nov. 19.—In a head-on collision between a freight train and an engine running light on the Wheeling and Lake Erie railroad, just south of here last night, one man was instantly killed, two perhaps fatally hurt. Both engines were wrecked and several cars splintered.

The dead: Martin Gildy, engineer, Steuenville, Ohio.

Fatally injured: Edward Fahey, conductor, Mingo Junction, Ohio; Charles Niehman, brakeman, Steuenville, Ohio.

A misunderstanding on the part of one of the crews is said to have been responsible for the accident.

SCENES OF BRILLIANCY.

Opening of The Opera Season in New York Last Night.

New York, Nov. 19.—The opera season at the Metropolitan opera house was opened last night and the usual scenes of brilliancy attended this annual function, which is always made the occasion for an outpouring of society and of patrons of that higher realm of music which finds its expression on the grand opera stage. Last night's opening was notable in many ways, the new Italian opera, "Adriana Lecouvreur," by Francesco Cilea, one of the youngest of the modern school of composers having its first presentation in New York.

WAGE A WAR
OVER WATERState Board of Health vs. St.
Johnsbury Village

CLAIM WATER POLLUTED

Subpoenas Were Served Yesterday on the Village Trustees and One Hundred Patrons of the System.

St. Johnsbury, Nov. 19.—St. Johnsbury has a lively water war in prospect. Machinery of a big legal tilt over the question was put in motion yesterday when Sheriff George F. Welch and Deputy Sheriff Fred Hartyman served subpoenas on the village trustees and about 100 patrons of the corporation water system.

The suit is brought by the state board of health because of alleged violation of its order forbidding the use of this water system for domestic purposes, because of claimed impurities and possible menace to public health.

The board of health last July issued an order forbidding the use of the village system except for commercial purposes. The board claims its source of supply, the Passumpsic river, is badly contaminated. The St. Johnsbury Aqueduct company, whose source of supply is Stiles pond in Waterford, gained many village patrons then. The village still continued to sell water for domestic purposes.

The village trustees maintain that the state board of health have gone beyond their legal right in making this drastic order, and will fight the case on that issue. The suit is brought by Attorney General C. C. Pitts of Brattleboro. He will be assisted by State Attorney Guy W. Hill of St. Johnsbury. The case is a most important one, as it will test the power of the state board of health.

Several other towns have been served with similar notices, and will watch the present case with interest.

The case is returnable before Judge Waterman at the court term which will meet here Dec. 2.

WARNER WAS SORRY
VERDICT WAS LIGHTFound Guilty of Murder in the Second Degree in Killing Esther C. Nor-ling in New York Last July.

New York, Nov. 19.—Frank H. Warner was convicted last night of murder in the second degree for killing Esther C. Norling on July 23, last. The trial has been in progress for a month.

"I'm sorry they didn't make it first degree," was Warner's only comment when the verdict was returned.

Warner, who had known Miss Norling for some years, went to the store in which she was employed in 42nd street and shot her without warning. He escaped into a large office building and before he was followed got out through a rear window. He then went to a hat store owned by John C. Wilson, a life-long friend, and shot him. Wilson died soon after. Warner was captured by a truckman armed with a cotton hook as he was leaving Wilson's store.

Patrolman Thomas Walsh was dismissed from the police force on charges of cowardice for not following Warner into the office building after he shot Miss Norling.

Warner's defense was insanity. He has not been tried on the indictment charging him with killing Wilson.

OFF FOR ST. PETERSBURG.

Taft and Party are Traveling in Comparative Luxury.

Vladivostok, Nov. 19.—Secretary Taft and party left Vladivostok on the Trans-Siberian railroad for St. Petersburg this afternoon in a magnificently equipped private car. The trip will be made in comparative comfort, considering the hardships that Trans-Siberian travelers usually encounter. The tourists will reach St. Petersburg on December 3 and will be received by the Czar. Taft intended to leave this morning but found that he could not complete the program mapped out for him.

WHAT DICKENS ESCAPED.

Novelist, Were He Living, Would Be Called on Druce Case.

London, Nov. 19.—Charles Dickens would have been a witness in the Druce case if alive. Miss Mary Robinson said to the court today that the novelist assured her that the Duke of Portland and Charles Thomas Druce were one. It had been hinted before that Dickens had the secret of Druce's alleged double life and based his novel "Edwin Drood" on the case.

RESCUED 20 BABES
FROM BURNING HOUSE

Brave Work by Firemen and Citizens at Ware, Mass., When Parents of Children Were Away at Work.

Ware, Mass., Nov. 19.—Firemen and citizens carried twenty babies to places of safety from a burning tenement block in Ware, Mass., last evening. The children, all of Polish parentage, and their fathers and mothers and brothers and sisters old enough to work are employed in local factories, so that they were not at home when the fire broke out. Two women who act as caretakers for the children of the eight tenements in the block became frightened when they learned that the building was on fire at the street door and rushed to the street screaming wildly.

The fire was in an undertaker's store room directly under the stairway. The smoke rising through a light well in the center of the building quickly filled all the rooms and hallways, and there was danger that the fire would cut off exit by the stairway. Several citizens, realizing the danger, rushed into the building and groping their way through the smoke in the tenements, took out some of the children, while the firemen who arrived a few minutes later brought out the other little ones.

The blaze was confined to the street floor, occupied by business firms, some of which also suffered damage to stocks of goods by smoke and water.

NOTHING SUSPICIOUS
ABOUT HIS CONDITIONAutopsy Held on Body of Michael Broughm Found an Excessive
Use of Alcohol.

Bennington, Nov. 19.—The inquest in the case of Michael Broughm, which was to have been held yesterday afternoon, was postponed until a report is received from Dr. B. H. Stone, pathologist at the state laboratory at Burlington. Broughm died suddenly Friday night in the boiler room of the Vermont Lumber & Machinery company's mill on Gage street, but the autopsy performed by Dr. Stone revealed no suspicious conditions nor did it disclose the cause of death.

The pathologist took some of the organs to Burlington for microscopic and chemical examination.

Mr. Broughm, it is said, was in a weakened condition from the excessive use of liquor and one theory is that ptomaine poisoning from eating oysters may have caused his death.

BICYCLE THIEF SENTENCED.

Henry Degest Got Two Years in State Prison.

Bennington, Nov. 19.—Henry Degest, the young Hollander from North Adams, who was arrested Thursday morning on the charge of stealing a bicycle belonging to C. D. Gibson, was arraigned in municipal court yesterday, found guilty and held in the sum of $500 bail for county court. Henry Fisher, to whom Degest sold the bicycle for $1.50, was in court and identified the respondent.

"I'm sorry they didn't make it first degree," was Warner's only comment when the verdict was returned.

Warner, who had known Miss Norling for some years, went to the store in which she was employed in 42nd street and shot her without warning. He escaped into a large office building and before he was followed got out through a rear window. He then went to a hat store owned by John C. Wilson, a life-long friend, and shot him. Wilson died soon after. Warner was captured by a truckman armed with a cotton hook as he was leaving Wilson's store.

Patrolman Thomas Walsh was dismissed from the police force on charges of cowardice for not following Warner into the office building after he shot Miss Norling.

Warner's defense was insanity. He has not been tried on the indictment charging him with killing Wilson.

AN IMPROVED STORE.

George N. Tilden Is Now Better Equipped Than Ever in Wood Block.

The recent addition and the improvements to the Wood block have given the George N. Tilden shoe store greatly increased facilities and affords the proprietor a much better opportunity for handling his trade. The entire front of the store has been changed and, instead of small windows, the one large window makes an attractive display stand.

There have been many additions to the interior furnishings of the store, including new seats and counters and additional shelving. The repair department, which was formerly in the second story, has been moved to the same floor and in the rear of the store.

This was formerly the Morse shoe store and Mr. Tilden was for many years employed as clerk in the store until a C. and C. M. Willey bought the business which they ran together for a time and then Mr. Tilden bought his partner's interest in the business.

CHILD WAS CRUSHED
BENEATH CART WHEELSHis Own Father, Frank Allen Stearns of Nashua, N. H., Was Driving
But Was Not at Fault Over It.

Nashua, N. H., Nov. 19.—Frank Allen Stearns, aged 6, son of Frank A. Stearns of 41 Broad street, was instantly killed yesterday afternoon.

He was on the seat of a dump cart with his father, who is a teamster. The two started to change seats, when the horses started, and the boy was thrown to the ground. The wheels passed over his head, crushing his skull.

He was taken to his home by his grief-stricken father, and Dr. T. L. Wallace was summoned, who pronounced him extinct. He was an only child.

The accident took place near Happy Hollow at 4 o'clock. Dr. James T. Greeley, medical referee, investigated the case and pronounced death due to an accident.

A Gift of $50,000.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 19.—At the recent November meeting of the Yale corporation here yesterday, Eli Whitney of New Haven, presiding in the absence of President Hadley, announced that he had made the receipt of a gift of $50,000 in lumber company bonds from E. E. Veyerhaeuser, chairman, and William Carson, treasurer, of the committee on endowment of applied forestry and practical lumbering, appointed by the National Lumber Manufacturers' association. The fund is to be used towards supporting the chair of applied forestry and practical lumbering at the Yale forest school. Higher requirements were determined on for the degree of master of laws and doctor of civil laws.

CITY'S RIGHT
UNQUESTIONEDBut Property Owner Thought
He Was Aggrieved

SETTLEMENT IS REACHED

Tomas Will Pay Assessment, and One-quarter of Sidewalk Cost When City Puts in Walk Next Spring.

The street assessment against A. Tomas has been settled and Mr. Tomas has agreed to pay the amount, which is a little over $21. City Attorney J. Ward Carver stated that the trouble over the tax was not that Mr. Tomas questioned the right of the city to collect the tax, but that Mr. Tomas thought that the city had done him an injustice when it laid the concrete sidewalk on Merchant street by stopping when it reached his property.

The city claimed at that time that when Mr. Tomas erected his block he tore out the original concrete walk and should replace it.

The city has, however, now agreed to lay a concrete walk along the aggrieved party's land next spring on the terms that he pay the street assessment and one-quarter of the expense of the new sidewalk. His business block at the corner of North Main and Merchant streets was advertised to be sold at auction this afternoon to satisfy the claim of the city, but the sale was declared off when the above agreement was entered into.

There are now no outstanding assessments against any of the abutters on Merchant or Summer street macadam. The principle, under which the assessments for this kind of street improvement are levied, is on the basis of half and half, after deducting the curbing cost, which the municipality meets. There have been no contests over the others, so that at the present time the only litigation over street betterment assessments is on the Main street block pavement.

Evening—Trip to Waterbury.

A reception was tendered at Montpelier seminary last evening, at which over one hundred ladies availed themselves of the opportunity to meet three new teachers in the school. Miss Ida Darg, Mrs. Crosby and Mrs. Nichols. Marquis de Lafayette Chapter, D. A. R., went to Waterbury last evening, where the members were the guests of Mrs. F. E. Atkins. A very pleasant time was spent.

Barre Town Teachers Meet.

The third meeting of the Barre town teachers was held Friday afternoon at the school house in South Barre. There were thirty-two present. The teachers at South Barre gave an informal reception to the visitors. The school rooms and hallways were tastefully decorated and refreshments were served.

Among other things discussed at the meeting were subjects of truancy, reporting of absences and the word system of rational reading. Mrs. Emma L. Taplin of Lower Websterville gave a very interesting and instructive talk on the word system and brought with her four of her youngest scholars. With them she gave a model lesson using the phonetic cards and sentences on the blackboard.

The next meeting will be held at East Barre and methods of teaching arithmetic will be considered. The Southworth-Stone arithmetic has been introduced in the Barre town schools this fall.

WILL REALIZE LARGE SUM.

St. Monica's Fair Which Closed Last Night Was Unusually Successful.

The annual St. Monica's church fair closed last evening with 500 people in attendance. The fair was a great success and among the best the church ever held. The average attendance each evening is estimated at 300 people, which for the eight nights of the fair makes a total of 2,400. Though the accounts have not yet been settled up it is expected that the church will realize at least $1,200.

TANGLED TALE
TOLD IN COURTAs Result Ceborn Gonyo Was Convicted

ON AN ADULTERY CHARGE

Mrs. Neverett, His Paramour, Allowed to Go on Her Own Recognizance—Is in Hands of Probation Officer on Liquor Charge.

Following the verdict that he was guilty of adultery, Celso Gonyo of Barre was today sentenced in Washington county court to not less than fifteen nor more than eighteen months in the house of correction at Rutland. The woman in the case, Mrs. Agnes Neverett, was allowed to go on her own recognizance. The jury returned its verdict this forenoon, following a trial of less than a day.

The jurors were T. B. Gaylord, Mason Chester, Orrin Kimball, A. E. Lamberton, V. S. Miner, W. E. Nelson, John Sheridan, O. H. Smith, J. G. Sleeper, E. V. Stowe, Thomas Symonds and O. L. Tilton. There were fifteen witnesses summoned by the prosecution, and only a few were used.

DRAWN UP BY FINGER,
ALSO HURT IN FALLING

Frank G. Rogers, Expressman, Had a
Painful Experience When Finger Ring
Caught on Trunk Being Hoisted into Opera House.

Frank G. Rogers, the expressman, was injured in a peculiar manner yesterday afternoon while transferring the properties of the May Hillman company to the opera house. He was standing on his wagon supervising the lifting of the trunks and had placed a trunk in the noose when the signal was given to lift. A horse is used to pull up the articles. In some way a heavy gold ring which Mr. Rogers was wearing on his third finger caught on a projection on the trunk and he was raised to the height of a dozen feet, when the ring came off, allowing him to drop to the ground.

In falling, Mr. Rogers struck on his heels and then back against the wagon, knocking him almost senseless and making him incapable of walking. He was taken to the office of Dr. W. E. Lazell, where, upon examination, it was found that no bones were broken and the principal injury seemed to be to his finger, which had been cut by the ring; and he was suffering from the shock and was somewhat bruised. He was then taken to his home and it is expected he will be able to resume work within a few days.

The ring, badly bent out of shape, was found on the concrete beneath the pulley.

SPAULDING GIRLS ORGANIZE.

Will Play Basket Ball Under Girls' Rules
This Year—Arranging Schedule.

The Spaulding Girls' Athletic association held their first meeting in the high school yesterday afternoon, which was largely attended by the pupils of the ninth grade and high school. They adopted a new constitution and are to play basket ball under girls' rules, as nearly every other girls' team in the state is to do this year. Miss Davis and Miss Young, teachers, were elected advisers. The first practice will be held this week in the Church street gymnasium. It is hoped that a league can be formed with other girls' teams around this part of the state, and Manager Marguerite Brown is to arrange a schedule of games.

THREE DOUGHTY HUNTERS.

Disgraced the Name of the South Main Street Gunning Club.

Three dooughty members of the celebrated South Main Street Gunning club (an organization which hasn't been in the lime-light for some time) went out duck hunting yesterday. They knew they were going to be successful, and they so notified the other members of the club. They went over toward Brookfield way. They hung around for hours but never a duck did they find. Unhappily they still missed the ducks, and to the other expectant members of the club, they shamefacedly approached a farmer just beyond Williamstown and humbly inquired if he had any ducks to sell.
